

Contents

Editorial Preface

Politics, History, Sociology, Cultural Studies

Nessa Cronin 'Disciplinary Ghettos': Irish Studies and Interdisciplinary Negotiations	1
Catherine Maignant Alternative Pilgrimages: Postmodern Celtic Christianity and the Spatialisation of Time	17
Jean-Christophe Penet The Young Ireland Movement: Inscribing Ireland's Identity at the Heart of The Nation	29
Mohamed Salah Harzallah The Construction of Famine Memory in the Irish Oral Tradition	43
Literature
Margaret Mills Harper 'How Else Could the God Have Come to Us?': Yeatsian Masks, Modernity, and the Sacred	57
Yulia Pushkarevskaya Time and Memory in Jennifer Johnston's Novels: 'A Past that Does Not Pass By'	73
Catherine Kilcoyne Eavan Boland and Strategic Memory	89
Anne Karhio Rewriting 'Radical Innocence': Poetic Formations of Memory and Presence in Yeats, Mahon and Muldoon	103
Ruben Moi 'I, Too, Have Trailed My Father's Spirit': Alternative Memories in the Poetry of Paul Muldoon	119
Sibel Sezen Poetry and Identity: An Interview with Nuala Ní Dhomhnaill	127
Irene Gilsenan Nordin 'True to the Subversive': Rita Ann Higgins in Conversation	133
Reviews	143
Contributors	163