

Contributors

Brynhildur Boyce is a PhD student at Goldsmiths, University of London, and is working on the relation between Samuel Beckett's radio plays and their medium. She is editor of book reviews for Nordic Irish Studies and has contributed articles to Recovering Memory: Irish Representations of Past and Present (2007) and Beckett: Écrans de Silence/Beckett: Screens of Silence (2008).

Erik Exe Christoffersen is a Lecturer at the Department of Dramaturgy, within the Institute for Aesthetic Studies, at the University of Aarhus. He is the author of Teaterhandling. Fra Sofokles til Hotel Proforma (Theatre Acts: From Sophocles to Hotel Proforma, 2007), which deals with modern theatre and dramaturgy. He is also editor of Peripeti, a journal on dramaturgical studies.

Torunn Kjølner (1952-2008) was a Lecturer at the Department of Dramaturgy, within the Institute for Aesthetic Studies, at the University of Aarhus. She published numerous articles on stage art, theatre studies and dramaturgical methods, and was Leader of the Norwegian Theatre Academy in Frederikstad, Norway from 2002 to 2006.

Jacob Lund is an Assistant Professor at the Department of Aesthetics and Culture, within the Institute of Aesthetic Studies, at the University of Aarhus. He has been editor of The Nordic Journal of Aesthetics since 2007. His publications include Livsform – perspektiver i Giorgio Agambens filosofi (Form-of-life: Perspectives in the Philosophy of Giorgio Agamben, 2005, ed. with Mikkel Bolt) and Den subjektive rest (The Subjective Remnant, 2008).

Rónán McDonald is Director of the Beckett International Foundation at University of Reading and a Senior Lecturer in English. He is the author of Tragedy and Irish Literature (2002), The Cambridge Introduction to Beckett (2006) and The Death of the Critic (2007), as well as numerous articles and reviews on Irish literature.